

FIFTY LIVES TOLL OF FIERCE STORM ON GREAT LAKES

Property Losses Are Estimated at Total of Two Million Dollars

LAKE SUPERIOR IS HIT HARDEST

Loss to Ships on Single Lake Is Estimated Over a Million Dollars

CLEVELAND FACES A FAMINE

Snow Stops but the City Is Buried Under Drifts and Completely Tied Up

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 12.—Although the seas are still rolling dangerously high on all the great lakes, most of the vessels held at various ports of shelter during the gale of the past four days today were preparing to resume their journeys. Nearly every vessel known to have been on the lakes during the blizzard

- Find Scribbled Farewell
- BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 12.—“Good bye, Nellie; the ship is breaking fast, William.”
- These words scribbled on a piece of wood was picked up in the harbor this afternoon. The note is believed to have been written by one of the crew of U. S. lightship No. 82, lost off Sturgeon Point in Monday's storm. A William Jensen of Muskegon, Mich., was mate of the lightship.

today had been accounted for. Latest reports of the damage wrought by the storm indicated that the loss to shipping interests would total nearly two million dollars. Fifty persons, it was estimated, perished during the storm.

The Canadian freighter Wexford of the Western Steamship company of Toronto, lies bottom up in Lake Huron eight miles north of Port Huron, resting upon the wreck of the Regina, a Canadian package steamer in seventy feet of water.

This became the firm belief of lake men this afternoon, with practically all other great lakes vessels, scattered by the most terrific storm in the history of the lakes, accounted for.

That the Lake Huron wreckage resulted from the collision of two ships is declared by Captain Tom Reid of the Reid Wrecking company, who has cruised about the scene for two days.

“I am positive one vessel is resting upon the wreck of the other,” said Reid today. “The position of the visible bulk which is not floating bears this out. There is nothing to support the overturned freighter which lies with the bow out of water. The water at this point is 70 feet deep.

Divers left Port Huron at noon on the tug Sport with Captain Thompson to positively identify the wreck. With the terrible gale abated the lake is calm enough to permit diving.

If Reid's theory is correct the loss of life in the greatest disaster of the storm may reach 40. It is estimated the Wexford and Regina carried crews of about 20 men each.

RECOVER TEN BODIES

Ten bodies had been recovered early today from the wreck of the big steel freighter, eight miles north of Port Huron on Lake Huron. Of these, two have been identified as David Lawson of New Brunswick and W. F. McGinnis of Owen Sound, Ont. Lifesavers and wrecking men today held to the theory that all of the ten were members of the crew of the steamer Regina, of the Canada Interlake company of Toronto. The finding of a wrecked lifeboat and oars from the Regina fostered this belief. The Canadian shore was strewn with other wreckage which would indicate that the Regina had met with trouble.

As usual, the rock-studded shores of Lake Superior claimed the major share of the lake disaster. It was estimated today that the loss to ships on this lake alone would be in excess of a million dollars. Although the crews of the steamers L. C. Waldo of Detroit and the Turret Chief of Toronto were saved, each of these vessels is a total loss. Another ship, believed to be the Leaffield, which has been on the rocks of Angus Island, north of Isle Royale since early Monday, today was reported to have broken up. The fate of the crew is unknown.

Near Death on Wreck

Captain Duddeson and his crew of twenty-six men and two women were rescued late yesterday from the wreck of the Waldo on Gull Rock, Manitou Island, after a ninety hour

ALLEGED DELAY LET MAN DROWN

Eye Witnesses of Accident Say that Rescuers Went Back for Oars and Overcoat

VICTIM WAS STRUGGLING IN RIVER

Seven Minutes Delay in Starting Out with Boat Just Enough It Is Declared for Wells to Sink

That delay over a pair of oars and an overcoat caused the death of Edward Wells, who drowned in the river from the government boat Elinor Monday morning, is the statement made by several eye witnesses of the accident.

Clayton Marvin, an employee of the Chicago Steel Tape company, with several other employees of the same firm, watched the man's fall into the river from a window of the plant, which overlooks the levee.

“It was seven minutes from the time he fell into the water,” said Mr. Marvin today, “before they finally got a boat into the water after him. In the meantime Wells was swimming toward the protection pier, and was almost there when he went under.”

“Even slow as they were in getting the boat into the water, they might have got to him before he sank if one of the men had not gone back on the boat. He re-appeared with an overcoat.”

Mr. Marvin believes that when the boat was launched there were no oars in it. Another employee of the steel tape company declares there was one oar. Both are sure that the men in the boat went back, after putting the skiff in the water to get a pair of oars.

Their story is born out by Joseph Spears, proprietor of a boat livery, whose story agrees with that told by the employees of the tape company in every particular.

REASSESSMENT MAY BE ORDERED

Keizer Claims Figures for Town of Washington Are Out of Proportion for This Year

ATTACKS ASSESSORS' METHODS

Claims in Many Townships that Old Rolls Are Copied from Year to Year to Get Values

That the tax assessment for the town of Washington is radically out of proportion and that he may order it reassessed was the declaration of J. E. Keizer, assessor of incomes, before a meeting of the county board this morning at which he presented his annual report.

The reference to the condition in the town of Washington came during an explanation of the shortcomings of assessors in the various La Crosse county districts and Mr. Keizer took occasion to make it plain that the results were far from satisfactory in other districts.

Mr. Keizer, incidentally, took occasion to point out inaccuracies in assessments and at the same time show that in many instances local assessors make no effort to secure true values but merely copy the tax rolls from year to year.

System Is Wrong
The system is radically wrong, he assured members of the county board.

Mr. Keizer believes the real estate estimates to be too low in the majority of instances and points out that in the town of Hamilton, where a new assessment was taken this year upon the basis recommended by the state tax commission, real estate values had increased approximately $50,000.

“The laws relating to taxation,” declared the assessor, “are alright, the difficulty is encountered in their enforcement. In the majority of the townships it is almost impossible to get a man to accept the job of assessor. There is very little money in it and the man who usually gets it is one of the farmers and neighbors. He simply copies the old tax rolls and they are turned in as the new assessment when, as a matter of fact, no attention has been paid to increased or decreased property values.”

Visit Institution
The county board has decided to visit the poor farm, the county agricultural school and the insane asylum at West Salem. Yesterday the plan to go to the poor farm was defeated. Later the invitations to visit the agricultural school and the asylum were granted. Then a motion to reconsider the vote by which the poor farm trip was abandoned was made and the supervisors decided to include it for a visit.

Eighty-five hundred dollars is the estimate of Superintendent of Schools B. F. Olman of what the county will have to raise for the support of county educational institutions during the coming fiscal year. The entire expense, he estimates, will be $14,500 of which the state will pay $6,000.

When the county board adjourns Friday it will be until Monday morning. This is pursuant to a resolution introduced by Supervisor Valentine Keppel and which was unanimously adopted.

State Highway Commissioner Hirst in a communication to the board recommends that those roads in the county for which the state has donated funds be oiled and tarred. This is to preserve the state highways and comply with that section of the state highway laws which says the roads, after receiving state aid, shall be kept in good repair.

A communication from the state insurance commissioner recommends that county property be insured with the state department.

La Crosse county has been invited to display an exhibit at the 1914 state fair at Milwaukee.

Mothers' Pension Up
Thursday a resolution will be introduced before the county board to adopt that section of the state law relating to mothers' pensions and appropriating $15,000 for the pensions in this county.

Just how the county board will receive the proposition is speculative, in fact opposition has developed in some quarters owing to what some term the “unnecessary increased expense.” Under the mothers' pension law, which was adopted at the last session of the legislature, the state reimburses the county for a share of the pension. The fund at present appropriated for work of the poor commission would also be materially decreased.

It is estimated that at present there are about forty-three families in La Crosse county eligible for pension. Most of these families are at present drawing aid from the county.

The $15,000 appropriation is by no means an accurate estimation of how large the fund needs be.

The finance committee held up its resolution for the adoption of the

EQUALITY IS AIM OF TRUST POLICY

Wilson Plans to Have Big and Little Businesses Treated Alike

WILL CLEAR UP DEFINITION

Plans to Settle for Business Men Just How Far They Can Go

What the Wilson trust policy will comprise:

Specific definition of just what constitutes a trust.

Prohibiting merging of corporations which would give the new concern a monopoly in its field.

Prohibiting interlocking directors and stock ownership in rival concerns, by corporations.

Regulating stock issues so that water cannot be injected into corporation stock so that new combinations can be milked by the promoters who underwrite new issues.

Making guilt personal, so that directors of corporations and not the corporations shall be punishable for violation of the anti-trust laws and providing for prison sentences and not money fines.

Prohibiting discrimination in rates, prices, etc., in order to crush out of existence a rival corporation.

Prohibiting the issuance of fictitious stock and prohibiting the buying by corporations of rival factories merely to close them up to keep their product out of the market.

Possibly explicitly exempting mutual organizations of farmers and labor unions from the provisions of the law.

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN
(Staff correspondent of United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—With a certainty that currency legislation will soon be before him for his signature, President Wilson today turned to the trust policy. This will be the all-overshadowing issue of the regular session of congress. The president will devote the major portion of his annual message to this problem. He has told a score of congressional visitors during the last few days that the anti-trust bugaboo must be eliminated for all time. The big corporations of the country, he believes, are ready to go ahead and do business under the new tariff bill, but they want, and they have, the president thinks, the right to expect that they will have defined for them how they can operate and whether they are to be limited by a series of new laws.

Size Not to Be Feared
To every single one of his visitors, the president has insisted that the fact that a corporation has a capital stock of a billion dollars is no reason why anyone should fear it. To one visitor he said: “I am not objecting to the size of the enterprise. What I am going to object to is that the government should give them exceptional advantages which enables them to succeed and does not put them upon the same footing as other people.”

That will be the keynote of all anti-trust legislation—equality for everyone under the law, for the small as well as the large producer. The president has told the men who will handle his legislation—Senator Newlands and Representative Clayton—that he wants the republicans taken into their confidence.

In many respects the proposed trust legislation will follow the lines of the so-called Seven Sisters law of New Jersey. When Wilson realized that his home state was the “mother of the trusts,” he called into consultation some of the best lawyers in the country. And the legislation they recommended has solved the trust problem there, it is admitted. So the national laws will be framed on this “bony skeleton,” broadened out to meet the exigencies of the larger scale.

Trust Definition
A trust will be specifically designated as a combination or agreement between corporations, firms or persons, to:

“Create or carry out restrictions in trade or to acquire a monopoly in trade or commerce; to limit or reduce the production or increase prices of merchandise or commodities; to prevent competition through agreement; to fix specific prices for the sale of merchandise and fix penalties for those who do not sell at that figure; to make any agreement whatsoever for the division or markets or restriction of production for private advantage.”

It is on the emphatic designation of just what a trust is that the big fight will come. But the president believes that congress can agree on this and that when it is set forth in black and white, the business interests of the country can be depended upon to keep within the limitation.

CARUSO RETURNS IN MIDST OF BUNDLE OF GRAND GREEN GLORY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Customs inspectors began to figure on the value of goods walking alone from the Kaiser Wilhelm II here today when the huge bundle suddenly unfolded and disclosed Enrico Caruso, the famous tenor, hiding in the midst of splendor.

Perched on Caruso's head was a green fedora with a bow in the back. A great overcoat, also green, enfolded him. It had a heavy fur collar which completely hid the tenor's face and stood up so high that the hat seemed to rest upon the collar rather than Caruso's head.

Dangling from a sleeve of the overcoat—no hand was visible—was a massive cane with a long ivory knob surmounted by heavy gold filigree. Beneath the overcoat were black patent leather shoes with tan tops.

When Caruso came out from his hiding place it was seen that he was clean shaven. His first statement was that he had been given a medal since he left this country by the king of Bavaria, who conferred the Order of St. Michael on him. With this assertion there was a stir to starboard of the overcoat and an ungloved hand appeared, on which was a huge carbuncle ring, thus satisfying the curious ones that Caruso was all there and might not be expected to come out in another section of grandeur.

SPENCER TRIES TO BEAT UP LAWYER

Attacks His Attorney In Court When Trial Is Resumed Today

SHOUTS CURSES AT THE JUDGE

Opium Fiend Screams and Hurls Oaths As He Is Held In His Chair

WHEATON, Ill., Nov. 12.—Henry Spencer, “confessed” wholesale murderer, on trial here for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat, Chicago tango teacher, created a scene when court convened today, by flooring his attorney, Alton Zemon of Chicago, with two heavy blows, and shouting that he was “damned tired of this delay.” Sheriff Kuhn and two deputies overpowered the prisoner and held him in his chair. “I don't need an attorney,” screamed the opium fiend. “I can be my own attorney, and this gink is wasting too much time in getting a jury. I'm Spencer, the murderer. I committed every crime you read about in the newspapers. I killed this tango teacher and drank some of her blood. Come on, let's get that damned jury and have it over with.”

Held fast in his chair by the deputies, Spencer continued to hurl profane epithets at Judge Slusser, the jury and his attorney, until several dozen in the room fled.

“You've got as much brains as a sack of sawdust,” he shouted at Judge Slusser. “You've got eleven jurors here. Now put a woman as foreman and we'll get things started.”

HAS NEW MONEY PLAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Senator Newlands of Nevada, enroute to Washington, sent a telegram from Chicago today to Senator Kern urging that the democratic conference on currency reform be postponed for a day to give him a chance to present a new plan, which he called the “federal reserve system.”

RAID NOTORIOUS SALOON

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 12.—Adam Brown, proprietor of a notorious river saloon known as the Du Hinky, was arrested today for selling liquor to minors. His place above the Rapids was raided by the sheriff at 3 o'clock this morning and three drunken factory girls were arrested while their male escorts were let go.

WIDOW BURNED TO DEATH

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Rose Fisher, aged 50, widow, was burned to death today when a gas stove exploded while she was preparing breakfast. Her daughter Susie, 13, who attempted to put out the fire with her hands, is in a critical condition.

FOUR HUNTERS DIE AS SEASON OPENS

Two Men After Deer Mistaken for Quarry and Killed by Fellow Hunters

ACCIDENTS KILL TWO OTHERS

Fatalities Occur When Sportsmen Are Careless in Handling Guns

SUPERIOR, Wis., Nov. 12.—The first hunting fatality in Douglas county occurred at noon yesterday when James Megawa, supervisor from the Tenth ward of Superior, shot and killed Daniel Hammer, a laborer, while hunting on Dutchman's creek, four miles east of here on the south shore of Lake Superior.

Mistaken for Deer
Megawa was not more than fifty feet from Hammer when he fired the fatal shot. Hammer was crawling along on his hands and knees, stalking a deer. He was wearing a khaki suit and wore white mittens, the movements of which, against the background of his clothing, convinced Megawa that it was a deer, wagging its tail.

After finding he had killed a man he hurried back to the city and surrendered himself to Deputy Sheriff Andrew Berg at the county jail. Hammer is a single man. Megawa has been prominent in local politics for years and has been a member of the Douglas county board for five terms.

Four Other Fatalities

MONDOVI, Wis., Nov. 12.—Frank Brenner, aged 22, son of Alonzo Brenner, was shot through the hand and abdomen while putting a gun into a buggy. He was taken to a neighbor's house and died. He was engaged to be married.

BIWABIK, Minn., Nov. 12.—Hunting tragedies that mark the big game season started promptly in this section when Matt Mekki, Biwabik miner, was instantly killed by an unknown hunter, who escaped.

MARINETTE, Wis., Nov. 12.—The body of Howard Enderby, aged 14, was found in the town of Grover. His gun was about three rods away near a pile of wood. It is believed that he was looking into the pile, probably for chipmunks, when the gun was accidentally discharged, inflicting a fatal wound.

SENATE TO GIVE SILVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Miss Jessie Wilson's wedding gift from the members of the senate, according to a statement made by Senator Martine today, will be announced within the next two days. It was the consensus of opinion in the upper chamber that the gift should be silver inasmuch as the house of representatives has decided on jewelry.

About $500 had been received up to today. An agreement was reached between the majority and minority leaders today that there will be no session of the house on Nov. 28, Miss Wilson's wedding day.

FORESTERS LEAVE WISCONSIN

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12.—Following its action taken in the state of Minnesota Monday, the Independent Order of Foresters of Toronto, Canada, today turned its charter back to the Wisconsin insurance department because of more stringent regulations demanded by the state. In insurance circles it is intimated the order may withdraw from a number of other states. About 57 per cent of the entire membership is in the United States, of which about 4,500 are in Wisconsin.

ROUNDHOUSE BURNS

PORTAGE, Wis., Nov. 12.—Fire, started from a burning marsh, swept the “Soo” line yards here yesterday afternoon, destroying the roundhouse. Portage firemen saved the depot and other property. The flames spread to railroad bridges and threatened several residences, but were controlled before serious damage resulted.

HUNT COMPROMISE MAN TO SUCCEED PRESIDENT HUERTA

United States Pursues a Different Line in the Mexican Situation

NOW AIM TO BRING ABOUT PEACE

Plan of Arming Carranza Forces Is Abandoned by President Wilson

HUERTA REGISTERS A PROTEST

He Says U. S. Could Not Recognize Rebel Leader if He Fought Way to Power

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Another attempt to secure agreement between the warring Mexicans is in progress. It was learned today that John Lind, special envoy from the United States, is sounding out Huerta lieutenants. He wants them to name candidates from whom a provisional president can be selected to succeed Huerta and who will be acceptable to the Carranza faction. If one can be agreed on, negotiations for a truce and for initiation of a plan leading up to a general constitutional election will be initiated.

This is now the chief plan of the Wilson administration. Only a compromise can end the fighting in Mexico. The moment this government takes sides with the constitutionalists and permits them to get arms on this side of the border, it must be a war of extermination. And the Wilson administration realizes that it will be held responsible and its declarations of amity held up to world ridicule.

Huerta Protests.
It is known that the Huerta administration when it learned that the Wilson administration was at last seriously considering permitting the constitutionalists to get arms in this country, demanded from Lind and O'Shaughnessy how the United States could recognize Carranza, if he won, and refuse to recognize Huerta. Carranza would go into power, the protest said, as did Huerta, by right of might. The protest was used by Secretary of State Bryan in impressing President Wilson with the greatness of the responsibility he would have to assume if he armed the insurgents.

Mexicans in this city insisted today that the existing economic crisis is impressing both Huerta and Carranza. Bank failures in Mexico City are imminent. Already runs on the institutions there are in progress. Because of this they were hoping that Huerta would see his way clear to retire in favor of a provisional president who could have the support of Carranza and thus end the war.

Tackle Catarrh Now

Be Free All Winter

Avoid Colds, Stall Pneumonia, Keep Your Nose Clear and Your Throat Free.

Don't Wait Till You're All Bugged Up. Use S. S. S. Now.

If you will go into any first class store and get a bottle of S. S. S., you are on the way to getting rid of Catarrh. But don't let anyone work off that old trick of something "Just as good."

S. S. S. is taken into the blood just as naturally as the most nourishing food. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, comes through all the veins and arteries, exerts all mucous surfaces to exchange inflammatory acids and other irritating substances for arterial elements that effectively cleanse the system and thus put an end to all catarrhal pollution. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure, blood-making materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in the process of purification.

The medicinal components of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritive properties of the grains, meats, sugars, and fats of foods. Any local irritating influence in the blood is rejected by the tissue cells and eliminated by reason of the stimulating influence of S. S. S. You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely catarrh often infests the entire system.

You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. It is a remarkable remedy for any and all blood affections, such as eczema, rash, lupus, tetter, psoriasis, boils, and all other diseased conditions of the blood. THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

ENGAGED

By ELLA RANDALL PEARCE

(Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was a week since Varden Bell had returned from his trip abroad; or, as the event figured in the mind of the young man in question, a week since he had shaken hands with Miss Lola Minton on the pier and assured her that they would meet in the near future.

The trip abroad itself seemed of importance only because it had led to that meeting on shipboard which instantly turned the whole world upside down for the erstwhile contented bachelor. Varden Bell thought he had never seen such eyes in a girl's face as those which met his own when he and Miss Minton first exchanged glances. And when the wind whipped the loose curls of deep gold across the cream and rose of her cheeks young Bell became conscious of a color scheme beside which a Naples sunset would have seemed commonplace.

There had been five wonderful days at sea, not to mention the enchanting evenings, and yet, when the time came for parting, Varden Bell realized that theirs was but a conventional acquaintance, after all. The wonder and the enchantment had all been in the way he had felt about it. Their relations had been formal, their conversation casual; there was not a remembered glance or word upon which he could hang the least hope.

Miss Minton told him the reason for her journey from London to New York. She had been an orphan for some time, and her guardian had recently died. Relatives in New York had sent for her to come and make her home with them.

"My aunt is very fashionable. She has two daughters who go much in society—Delphine and Dotty De Mesa," she had said.

Young Bell knew of them; two precious members of a lively set, who made up for their squat figures and ugly dark faces, inherited from an unattractive Cuban father, by eccentric and startling modes in dress.

"If you are to be with the Carlos De Mesas you will be around town a lot, Miss Minton," he said, at parting. "I shall be sure to meet you. I hope it will be soon."

"I hope so," replied Lola, dazing him with her radiant smile.

As she was going to a new home, and as he was a comparative stranger to her, perhaps it was all that he had a right to expect; but he had watched her cab roll away with a curious depressed sensation. After that he had passed the week in thinking of the violet and gold and white and rose of the English girl's comeliness.

"Hang it all! I was a fool to let all my chances go like that," he fretted. "Why didn't I say something to do something to make an impression? I just thought we'd have to meet again; and I let it go at that. Now I'll have to look up the three graces—Delphine and Dotty De Mesa and their pretty cousin. I'll run down and see Crawley. He knows the De Mesa set."

Ralph Crawley, dramatic critic and playwrights' agent, welcomed his visitor with both hands, literally, for he seized upon him and vigorously deposited him in the easy desk chair.

"Take my place. I've got to go out for an hour—a sudden call. You're a friend in need, Varian. I advertised for a woman to look after my files, and I've got a dozen appointments. The procession will be—"

GOOD ROADS MEAN PROSPERITY

We are indeed glad to note that the directors of the board of trade have endorsed the program of the national highways association now being worked out in this city, as it is in cities throughout the United States.

Sometimes we think there is little to be added to what we have already said upon the subject of good roads,
but we subscribe fully to the belief which O. Hansen, manager of the La Crosse Boot and Shoe company, recently expressed on the rear end of a street car.

"The plan to invest $500,000,000
in a system of national highways permanently built, will bring more prosperity to the people of the United States than will the Panama canal."

That is what Mr. Hansen said. It was a new and telling comparison,
and we endorse it heartily.

La Crosse should do its share toward giving the national highways association the moral support of a large membership.

THERE IS NO BETTER WORK

We read with interest the following editorial in the current number of Collier's Weekly:

"Raising $4,000,000 in two weeks is the task undertaken by the Young Women's and the Young Men's Christian Associations of New York City. The campaign reached its public stage no later than November 10. Before that date more than half the required sum had, in a few weeks' time, been subscribed by a few individuals
—among them Cleveland H. Dodge and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard (Helen Gould). The problems of life in a city like Chicago or New York are very real, especially for the youthful wage earner living outside the family. We believe that no other agency is so effective in helping the young man and the young woman to meet these problems in time as are the Christian associations—ideal without being impossible. Precisely because their benefits touch all, directly or indirectly, these associations merit the sympathy and the support of all. We begin this paragraph by saying that a few millionaires had subscribed half the needed millions; let the remainder of the sum be the offering of the rest of us—who are certainly not rich nor yet, judged by average standards, really poor. Socially speaking, economically speaking, the work of the Christian associations is of the highest efficiency. It is applied to the mothers and fathers of tomorrow. It helps youth to make the most of itself—the best of itself.

Is any work in all the world better than this?"

No, there is no better work. We know this in La Crosse. We all recall when the pool rooms and saloons were so attractive to the high school boys that we were obliged to worry over the menace they constituted. We have seen this class of young men fade away from their old haunts, as they habituated themselves to the attractions of the Y. M. C. A.

Men who employ young men from other cities know its worth. They know that when their helpers room at the "Y" they are clear-eyed and efficient.

With less complete equipment, albeit in a pleasant and pretty location, the Y. W. C. A. here is doing much for our girls. It gives them a home, physical training and the broadening influence of a religious and studious atmosphere.

These things are but details showing the efficiency of the institutions.
The sum total of their effect is radiated about the city in an atmosphere of wholesomeness which formerly La Crosse did not know. The citizens who contribute to the support of these splendid organizations must and a handsome reward in their knowledge of the good that is being done.

"HOW LONG, OH LORD HOW LONG?"

Public opinion—world-wide—has won another victory. We can hardly doubt that but for the universal protest that went up from all the nations Mendel Beilis would have been convicted of the "ritual murder" for which he was kept in prison for three years on ridiculously flimsy evidence.

Loose talk of the "blood rites" of the Jews, existing only in the imaginations of ignorant Russians led to the belief by mendacious Jew baiters, has caused many a murderous raid upon this kindest of the peoples. So intense was the feeling engendered by this disreputable preachment that but for the sobering effect of the verdict of acquittal
hundreds of Jews, women and babes, would have been torn to pieces by the half-savage people who are the product of Russian despotism. As it is, Beilis feels that he must flee the country to be safe.

The Russian government pushed the prosecution relentlessly until the world's resentment became so manifest that a change of attitude was taken. Russian officials of the secret service who, although prejudiced against the semitic people, were compelled to report that Beilis was innocent, were summarily removed from the service. As the late Mr.
Lecky said, the case was deliberately and methodically constructed with the object of driving the great bulk of the Jewish population to the alternative of conversion, starvation or exile.

How long will this world, with its growing abhorrence of war and its ever increasing humanity, permit the continuance of this Russian tyranny that puts Nero to shame for his mol-lycoddle methods?

If the Smithsonian building is not big enough to accommodate the new specimens Col. Roosevelt will get in South America, they could appropriately be placed with the other wild animals in Congress.

The Episcopal convention favors stricter marriage laws, although some of our active bridegrooms are handing over fees to the clergy at fairly frequent intervals.

The tail feathers of the old speckled hen would make a very handsome hat trimming, but there is the fatal objection that they don't cost as much as aigrettes.

Col. Goethals would never succeed as a public works superintendent, as he has spent at Panama only $203,000,000 of the original estimate of $375,000,000.

No Time for Haste
The heroic fireman, with the fainting woman in his arms, stood at a seventeenth story window of the burning building. Flames were bursting from the windows above and below and dense clouds of smoke were swirling around the man and his unconscious burden. In another minute it might be impossible for him to reach the iron fire escape, yet he stood there waiting, with the woman in his arms.

"Hurry! Hurry!" shouted the agonized people, who looked up from across the street, where they were kept back by watchful policemen.

One man, more excitable than the others, shouted:
"Come on down, you idiot! What are you standin' there for? Can't you see that escape will be cut off
in another minute?"

"Keep quiet," commanded an officer. "He don't come down till they begin on the second reel."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Sad Days

The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of the year,
The comic opera season's on,
Oh, pause and shed a tear.

We'll sit and view the same old stunts,
The same old jokes we'll hear;
They're not content to work them
once,
But spring them every year.

The same old gag, the same old gag
The same old tale of woe;
The same old wife, the same old strife,
New name, but same old show.

His Start in Life

"How much of an income would it be necessary for you to have in order to be satisfied to retire?"
"If I could be sure of $10,000 a year I would quit business and be thoroughly satisfied."

"Do you think there is any chance that you will be able to get things fixed in the near future so that you will be as much as that?"

"Well, I'm hopeful. I saved $11 out of my income last month."—
Chicago Record-Herald.

On Election Day

"Is this the polling place?" asked
Mrs. Slithers over the telephone to Bump's butcher shop, where the voting was going on.

"Yes," madam," replied the inspector.

"Well, I'm Mrs. Slithers, of No. 97 Garraway street. I just wanted to tell you that it is raining so hard just now that I can't think of going out, so will you please cast one straight ticket for the progressive party for me? And, while you are about it, ask Mr. Bumps to send me up four pounds of liver, two pounds chops, a dozen fresh eggs and—"

But—would you believe it?—that rude politician actually hung up the receiver with a bang!—Harper's Weekly.

The Valor of Ignorance

Mr. Snibbles got out of bed and slipped on his shoes.
"This must stop," he muttered irritably to his wife. "I'm going downstairs to teach that young man to keep away from my house in the future."

"John," cried his wife, "stop!
Don't go—"

But before she could say more he had slipped out of the door. She heard him steal downstairs to the drawing room; she heard sounds of a struggle and of the breaking of glass; she heard him drag his adversary to the hall and kick him down the front steps. Then when he returned she flung herself upon him and clung to him admiringly.

"What's the matter?" he demanded.

"Don't you know?" she answered.
"That was a burglar."

"Great Scott!" he gasped, turning pale. "Why didn't you tell me before? I thought it was Ethel's sweetheart."—Harper's Magazine.

A Kidney Remedy That Has

Thousands of Friends

I believe Dr. Kilmer & Company of Binghamton, N. Y., manufacture one of the best medicines for the kidneys, liver and blood, called "Swamp-Root" ever produced, and I take pleasure in recommending it to others.

After trying several remedies for the kidneys and liver trouble, which apparently had taken on chronic form, I was urged to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a fair trial, which was promptly mailed to my address. I was so well pleased with the action of the remedy that I purchased it in five bottle lots and continued taking the remedy until I was fully satisfied that my kidneys and liver were restored to a healthy condition.

Prior to accepting this remedy I was almost daily afflicted with hemorrhage from the nose which physicians were unable to check or prescribe a remedy for, unquestionably caused by the condition of my kidneys, my heart at times affected my stomach and other organs in sympathy, all of which have been completely restored to a normal condition. I weigh fifteen pounds more than I did three years ago, the result of complying with the printed directions found with a bottle of Dr.
Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

I have been in the railway service for the past forty-two years and have been a resident of this city for the past twenty-three years.

Very truly yours,
E. B. PITNEY.

338 West Patten St., Paxton, Ill.
Personally appeared before me this 27th day of June, 1912, Mr. E.
B. Pitney who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

A Romance of Extraordinary Distinction

The Marshal

By Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews
Author of The Perfect Tribute, etc.
Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company

It was two minutes, perhaps, before Caperton Bayly, with a negro boy at his heels, with Jack Littleton and Harry Wise and a dozen other lads racing back of him, had plunged over the drop of land where Francois had disappeared. Two minutes are enough sometimes for large events. In that two minutes Lucy Hampton, without conscious volition, by an instinct as simple and imperative as a bird's instinct to shield her young, had slipped from her horse Bluebird and flown across the level and down over the steep bank till she found herself holding Francois' dark head in her arms and heard her own voice saying words she had never said even to herself.

"I love you, I love you," she said, and if all the world heard she did not know or care. There was no world for her at that minute but the man lying with his head against her heart—dead it might be, but dead or alive, dearest. "I love you—love you—love you," she repeated, as if the soul were rushing out of her in the words.

With that the luminous great eyes opened, and Francois was looking at her, and she knew that he had heard. And then the training of a lifetime, of centuries, flooded back into her, and womanly reticence and maidenly shame and the feelings and attitude which are not primeval, as she had been primeval for that one mad moment.

She drew back as she felt him trying to lift himself, and left him free and was on her feet, and then with a shock she was aware of another presence; turning she looked up into the angry glow of her cousin's eyes. He was not looking at her,
but at the man who, dazed, hurt,
was trying painfully to pull himself
up. Harry Hampton glared at him.

"We will settle this later," he brought out through his teeth. "I hope I can kill you." And Lucy cried out:

"Shame!" she cried. "He has just saved your life!"

"Damn him!" said Harry Hampton. "I do not want my life at his hands. I hate him more for saving me, damn him!"

And Francois, clutching at a bush, things reeling about him unsteadily, looked up, friendly, wistful, at the boy cursing him.

With that there was an influx of population; the whole world, apparently, tumbled down the steep bank, every one far too preoccupied with help for the hero to remark
Harry Hampton's grim humor.

CHAPTER X—XIII.

The Finest Things.

Endurance, Francois' own negro boy, brought a note to Roanoke House on a morning five days after.
It read:

"My Dear Miss Hampton:
"The doctor has given me permission to ride tomorrow and I wish to ride to Roanoke House before all other places. Will Mademoiselle see me? Will Mademoiselle permit me to see her for a short time alone? I await anxiously a word from you, and I am your servant,
"Francois Beaupre."

Mademoiselle sent a fair sheet of paper with a few unsteady scratches across it, and sat down to live over night, a hard business at times. But it was accomplished. The colonel had ridden to Norfolk for the day —had Francois known of that, one wonders? Lucy, waiting in the small stately study with the dim portraits and the wide vague view across the fields of the James River, heard the gay hoof beats of Aquarelle pound down the gravel
under the window, heard Francois' deep gentle voice as he gave the horse to Sambo, and waited one minute more, the hardest minute of all. Then the door had opened and he stood there—the miracle, as it seems at such moments to a woman, possibly to a man—of all the gifts and qualities worth loving.

The light on the thick bronzed hair with its dramatic white lock,
the diagonal of fresh color across the dark face, the wonderful brilliant eyes, the strong leanness of his hands—there was something in each detail, as the two gazed at each other in a short silence, which taught at Lucy's soul. That he was short, and unlike all the men she had dreamed before, was somewhat an added charm. The compact light figure seemed worth a hundred big bulks of men. The injured arm in its sling gave her a pang of tenderness, a thrill of eagerness to do anything, everything for him. A tumult of these thoughts and a thousand others beat about her as Francois stood grave, alert, in the doorway. Then he had made his precise bow, and she had heard his voice saying gently, "Good morning, Mademoiselle," and the door was closed; and they were alone together. In a flash she felt that it could not be endured, that she must escape. She rose hastily.

"I'm sorry I must go; I can not stay—"

But Francois had laughed and taken her hand and was holding it with a tender force which thrilled her. He understood. She knew he understood the shame and fear of a woman who has given love unasked; she was safe in his hands, she knew that. With a sigh she let her fingers rest in his and sat down again and waited.

"Dear Mademoiselle Lucy," said
the deep kind voice, "my first friend in Virginia, my comrade, my little scholar—"

Why did Lucy grow cold and quiet at these words of gentleness?
Francois was sitting beside her,
holding her hand in both his, gazing at her with the clearest affection in his look. Yet she braced herself against she did not know what. The voice went on with its winning foreign inflections, its slip of English now and then, and its never-to-be-described power of reaching the heart.

"See, Mademoiselle," said Francois, "we are two real friends, you and I, to have deception between us. We will not pretend, you and I, to each other—is it not, Mademoiselle? Therefore I shall not try to hide from you that I heard that day those words so wonderful which you spoke to me so unworthy. I have thought of those words ever since, Mademoiselle, as I lay ill with this troublesome arm; ever since—all the time. My heart has been full of a—gratification to you which can not be told. I shall remember all my life; I shall be honored as no king could honor me, by those words. And because you have so touched me, and have so laid that little hand on the heart of me, I am going to tell you, dear comrade and scholar, what is most secret and most sacred to me."

Lucy's hand in his stiffened, but yet she did not draw it away. Francois had not begun the way a lover begins—she felt that surely—but it was Francois. What faithfulness and truth there was in any one answered always to the truth and faithfulness of this man. In Lucy Hampton there was much of both; she left her hand lying between the strong hands of the man who did not love her.

Three Reasons Why POSTUM Instead of Coffee

A Food Drink

Has Fine Flavour

Free From Drugs

Postum made of choice whole wheat, roasted, with a small portion of New Orleans molasses, contains the nutritive elements of the grain; and is wholesome and nourishing. Coffee has no food value whatever.

Postum has a dark, seal brown color, which changes to rich golden brown when cream is added. It has a delightful aroma, and a rich, snappy flavour quite similar to that of Old Dutch Java.

Postum is absolutely free from any drug. Coffee contains caffeine, a poisonous drug—about 2½ grains to the cup. It often causes biliousness, headaches, heart agitation, nervousness, sleeplessness, and other ills. Postum, being pure and free from caffeine or any other drug, may be used freely by young and old.

Postum comes in two forms:
Regular Postum must be well boiled to bring out the flavour and food value.
Instant Postum is a soluble powder. Made instantly by stirring a spoonful in a cup of hot water—with sugar and cream added.
If coffee don't agree, try POSTUM.

MARSH FIRE GIVES NORTH SIDE SCARE

Threatens Destruction of Homes and Inhabitants
Turn Out to Subdue
the Flames

A fire that started shortly after dark last night in the Goose Green marsh, just south of St. Andrew street, from an unknown cause, threatened for a time to demolish several residences and large barns in the vicinity.

About 7:30 No. 2 fire department received a call. By the time they could reach the spot, the sky for blocks around was illuminated brightly.

The spot in which the blaze started is covered with thick dried weeds and brush, furnishing splendid material for flames. Numbers of men, seeing their homes in danger were out with buckets of water and blankets beating the underbrush fire.

Department No. 2, aided by a number of men and boys, formed a cordon around the flames and had them under control inside of an hour.

Within a half hour after they had returned to the department, the men were called out the second time to 317 Avon street, where they found a roof on fire. It is thought by the occupants of the residence that sparks from locomotives caused the fire. Practically no damage was done.

HIGH PRAISE FOR CONTINUATION HERE

State Superintendent Warren E. Hicks Commands
Industrial Education in City

Warren E. Hicks, state superintendent of the continuation schools of Wisconsin, visited the city yesterday, making the rounds of public schools and spending some time in the continuation and industrial schools here in the evening. He was accompanied by members of the board of industrial education.

Mr. Hicks commended the work of the schools of La Crosse. "It may be becoming for me to say that the work of your local industrial board has been conservative and commendable," said Mr. Hicks this morning.

"There are nearly double the number of persons in schools than there were a year ago. Through the fine co-operation of the city superintendent, the court, and the trust officer, the persons over 14 and under 16 not attending the established schools, are being served in the day continuation schools.

"The quality of instruction of the teachers in the day and evening classes will meet the approval of the thoughtful visitor. "The local industrial board has three plans of extension under consideration. First, the greatest co-operation with employers to increase the apprentices in the skilled occupations. Second, the opening of a center on the north side to accommodate nearly 2000 workers in evening classes. Third, the organization of clubs for boys and girls who are over 15, these clubs to have a social meeting once a week and to attend evening classes on one or two other nights a week.

"It is pleasing to know the eagerness with which La Crosse young people are making use of the educational opportunities provided that they may be more efficient for life occupations."

HOW TO DESTROY THE DANDRUFF GERM

BY A SPECIALIST

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well known fact, but when we realize that it is also indirectly responsible for many of the worst cases of catarrh and consumption, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found, after repeated tests, to completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair growth after years of baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you: 6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavender Compound, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing half an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips. If you wish it perfumed, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. While this preparation is not a dye it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

Pure Blood

Is healthy blood—blood that is normal in red and white corpuscles and all other important constituents. To have it, and the strength it gives, be sure to take HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Your blood is not pure if you have scrofula, pimples, boils, or other eruptions, eczema or salt rheum, psoriasis, rheumatism, anemia, nervousness, that tired feeling, loss of appetite or general debility.

You should take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and begin taking it at once. There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good," you may be sure it is inferior costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

A PEACEFUL SPIRIT.
It is the part of wisdom to cultivate and preserve a peaceful spirit. Peace does not dwell in outward things, but within the mind. We may preserve it in the midst of the bitterest pain if our will remain firm and submissive. Peace in this life springs from acquiescence even in disagreeable things, not in an exemption from suffering.

SWALLOWS PIN WHILE AT PLAY

North Side Schoolboy Gets Stickpin in His Throat and Fears to Tell Teacher

Although he swallowed a stickpin which he was holding in his mouth while playing ball in the yard of the St. James school, on the north side, yesterday morning, Clinton Schomers, age 14, 512 Berlin street, did not tell his teachers and companions about the accident until some time later, when the pin began to pain him. He was rushed to the St. Francis hospital.

Dr. Edward Evans and Dr. R. E. Flynn were summoned when the boy told of the accident and advised that he be taken to the hospital.

Physicians there found that the pin had lodged not a great distance down the throat, and could be removed without causing much difficulty. After a slight operation it was taken out.

The pain and fright occasioned by the accident has unnerved the boy and he is still confined in the hospital, although not in a serious way.

ADVISES FIGHT ON THE BAKER LAW

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 12.—"In the event you are ordered by the police to close up your place of business, refuse to do so. Let them arrest you if they will and then you can carry your case from one court to the other, thereby allowing you at least a couple of years to do business before the case is settled. Get together, elect men to the city council and to the legislature who will look after your interests."

This was the statement of E. G. Hunt, president of the Retail Liquor Dealers' association, at a meeting of the "Bakerized saloon keepers," held in Eagle hall Tuesday afternoon.

TO MOVE EMPTIES BEFORE FREIGHT

An order issued train crews at the north side offices of the Milwaukee railroad this morning illustrates the amount of business being done on the road. The order reads, "Move all empties, both east and west, before dead freight." Numbers of trains of solid empty freight cars are being shipped west daily. North side yard officials take the order to mean that empties to the west especially are of more importance than the handling of unimportant freight.

Functional Disease.

Organic disease is so called in cases where the structure of the organ has become so affected as to alter its character. If the liver hardens or the kidneys decay this is organic trouble. The doctors call it a functional disease when the functions of any organ are deranged—that is, do not work normally, when, for instance, the liver pours its secretions into the system too freely or the kidneys, through a cold, do not remove the impurities from the system.

Jobs Waiting.

Happiness.

Happiness is a byproduct obtained from work well done.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WHEN BACK ACHES, WATCH KIDNEYS!

If Neglected Serious Diseases May Follow.

When the kidneys are clogged up and inactive, nature always warns you.

Backache is one of the first symptoms. You may also be troubled with disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders; have attacks of lumbago or rheumatism; become nervous, tired or feel all worn out; puffy swellings show under the eyes, or in the feet and ankles; or the urine becomes light and pale, dark-colored or cloudy. If such symptoms are neglected, dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease, which so often prove fatal, may result.

It is not only dangerous but needless for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, when a little Croxone will quickly and surely end all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for the prompt relief and cure of such troubles, because it cleans out the clogged up kidneys and makes them work properly. It soaks right in through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter, and makes the kidneys filter and sift the poisons from the blood and drive it out of the system.

This new, scientific preparation, is entirely different from other remedies. It is so quick-acting and effective that it is practically impossible to take it without results.

An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

Three doses a day, for a few days, is often all that is ever needed to end the worst backache; relieve rheumatic pains or overcome sleep-disturbing urinary disorders.

RUNNING IN FAVOR ON NORTH SIDE

That running is becoming one of the favorite sports of north side business men, was shown this morning by the news on Rose street to the effect that Ferdie Roth, proprietor of a Rose street saloon, and B. Larson are to compete in a street exhibition doing a one hundred yard dash for stakes. John Desmond, proprietor of the Combination, will probably run his scheduled hundred yard sprint Sunday.

because the swollen glands and inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and impair their healthy action.

Scott's Emulsion stands alone as nature's corrector of throat troubles; its cod liver oil is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue—the glycerine is curative and healing, while the combined emulsion up-builds the forces to avert the weakening influence which always follows throat troubles.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is best for three important reasons—it relieves the trouble; it prevents a relapse; it is not charged with alcohol or stupefying drugs.

Shun substitutes and insist on Scott's.

A Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet Will Digest Any Meal

One of the saddest sights at a royally rich dinner is to see a man or a woman unable to eat because of dyspepsia.

It is really a crime to continue this martyrdom when all one has to do is to eat a little Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

Just carry a tablet in your purse and after each meal eat it as you would a peppermint. It will digest the meal and surely convince you that food will not hurt you.

One grain of the ingredients which compose a Stuart's Tablet will digest 3,000 grains of fish, soup, coffee, ice cream, meats, vegetables and pastries. The whole idea of this great natural digester is to aid nature to do her work without exhaustion and it certainly accomplishes this result.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are our best known remedy for all stomach and dyspepsia troubles. It is positively wonderful to see the way one of these little tablets will "I used to be like him." digest a meal.

And no one can realize it until one has used these tablets.

Every drug store sells Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and sells them in huge quantities. No matter where you are located you may go to any drugist and buy a 50c box that will last you a long time. Absolutely convince you dyspepsia can be prevented.

Many thousands of people use these tablets occasionally just to keep their digestion always perfect. If you stay up late or overeat then take a tablet before bedtime there will be no horrible dreams or bad mouth taste. Go to your drugist now and buy a 50c box and go armed against any kind of stomach trouble.

Inspired any cablegrams advising General Huerta to resign. When Mexico City dispatches last week said that Gen. Diaz had cabled Huerta to quit, the old war horse said emphatically that he had done no such thing. The purveyors of rumors then said that Gen. Diaz had persuaded two friends to send the messages.

Gunboats Attack Maderistas. VERA CRUZ, Nov. 12.—The Mexican gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza, sent from Tampico and Vera Cruz, arrived off Tuxpan today and opened fire on the Maderistas attacking the town. It was reported that the rebels, who number 1,000 well armed and mounted men under Generals Medular and Gaviro, were being driven off.

Six Americans were reported to be still in Tuxpan early today, but they were expected to escape to either the Louisiana or the gunboat Fletcher sent to Tuxpan yesterday. Twenty Americans have been rescued by the warships.

Tuxpan is 145 miles northwest of Vera Cruz. Send Jap Warship. TOKIO, Nov. 12.—The Japanese cruiser Idzumo was ordered today to proceed with all speed to Mexico waters. The admiralty was reticent about the warship's movements, but it was presumed that she would take a position off the Mexican west coast, probably at Mazatlan.

Hale Sees Carranza. NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 12.—That negotiations between the American administration and the Mexican rebels are actually under way was the belief here today when Governor Venustiano Carranza, rebel leader, and William Bayard Hale resumed their conference at Nogales, Sonora. The conference followed the meeting across the border last night when it is believed Hale informally presented a proposition from President Wilson.

Machine Overturned and James Hobbs of Minneapolis Sustains Broken Back as Result

Don Cameron, former professional ball player and well known in La Crosse business circles, had a rib broken and was injured in other ways, although not seriously, in an accident in which his automobile turned turtle at Garner, Iowa, Sunday. James Hobbs, a Minneapolis traveling man, Cameron's companion, is dying with a broken back.

Mr. Cameron, who is associated with Thomas Keegan of this city, formerly manager of the North American Telegraph office, was touring Iowa writing insurance when the accident happened. Mr. Keegan, who had spent Sunday at his home in La Crescent, returned to Garner Monday, and today John L. Cameron, 117 North Fifteenth street, brother of the injured man, received from Keegan the following letter:

"Dear Captain: "It would seem as though the reliable old Ford was trying to imitate the unreliable old Jackson, and went on a rampage, the result being that Don is laid up here with a broken rib. However, he will be up and around tomorrow and will write you more particularly. It seems he turned out to pass a team and the wheel struck an old telephone pole that had been cut off, but the butt of which had been left sticking out of the ground eight or ten inches. The wheel broke and the car turned partly over.

"Trust your hand is O. K. by now. Frisbee, the hotel proprietor, is an old friend of Don's, and he is having everything fine.

"Regards. "TOM KEEGAN."

The allusion in the letter to the Jackson car is a reference to an automobile owned by John L. Cameron, in cranking which the owner's arm was fractured last week.

More than seventy-five persons have already joined the association in La Crosse. The meeting tomorrow evening will be for the purpose of electing officers.

A HAPPY CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

When cross, constipated, feverish, give "California Syrup of Figs."

"Mothers can rest easy after giving 'California Syrup of Figs,' because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious 'fruit laxative.' Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, bad breath, remember, a gentle 'inside cleansing' should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of 'California Syrup of Figs,' then look carefully and see that it is made by the 'California Fig Syrup Company.' We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

EUGENICS SPEECH STIRS CONVENTION

Chicago Woman Tells the Purity Congress Third of Generation Are "Accidents"

WOULD CUT DOWN BIRTH-RATE

Declares World Would Be Better Off if None Were Born for Five Years

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 12.—The world's purity congress this morning was nearly swept off its feet by a lecture on eugenics by Mrs. Mary E. Teets of Chicago and galvanized to action when it was learned that the great white slave traffic had passed only at the very door of the church in which the congress was held.

Mrs. Teets, who is superintendent of the correspondence school of gospel and scientific eugenics, declared that one-third of the present generation was made up of "incarnate accidents."

"It would be better for the world, if no children were born for five years, and we could spend our time looking after the generation already here."

Rev. T. Albert Moore of Toronto, Canada, who is chairman of the resolutions committee, convened the committee and drew a resolution in which the organization was pledged to take particular interest in the case of Hazel Murphy, 16, daughter of the janitor of Westminster church, in which the congress is meeting, who charged Mrs. Hilda Rowland of this city with attempting to lure her into a life of shame at Huron, Canada. The Rowland woman is in jail awaiting trial.

The congress voted to hold a special session at Kansas City in November, 1914. This meeting will not interfere with the regular session to be held in 1915. California is leading as the meeting place for the regular session.

Fight against the storm without food or shelter. The boat broke in two immediately after she struck the rocks last Saturday. The huge waves washed away her masts, cabin and pilot house and when the tug Heberd succeeded in getting to the wreck late yesterday, those on board were found lashed to the rigging of the forward portion, half dead from exposure.

Half a score of vessels were still on the rocks in various parts of the lakes today, but none of them was believed to be in imminent danger.

Barge Sinks With Seven MENOMINEE, Mich., Nov. 12.—

The tug Martin, which reached this port at 8 a. m., after a twenty-four hour battle with the storm which swept the great lakes, reported the loss with all on board of its consort, the barge Plymouth. Seven men perished.

Caught in a gale off Gull Island, Lake Michigan, the tow line between the tug and the barge parted, the barge was dashed against the tug and sank within ten minutes with all on board.

Ship on Rocks

RUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Superintendent W. E. Lloyd of the Mutual Transit company this morning received a telegram from a small town near Sarnia, Ont., reporting the loss of the steamer Northern Queen near Kettle Point, on the Canadian shore of Lake Huron. The telegram was signed by Captain Geo. B. Crawford, commander of the Northern Queen.

The boat was carried ashore by mountainous waves. The crew of 22 reached the mainland and are proceeding to Sarnia.

The Northern Queen was 339 feet in length and 40 feet beam and was one of the finest freighters plying the lakes.

Can't Identify Wreck

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 12.—After a visit to the scene of the floating wreck of the large steel freighter in Lake Huron north of here, the United States cutter Morrill returned to this port at 10 a. m. The Morrill was unable to identify the wreck. Tugs with divers aboard were sent to the scene and another effort made to learn the name of the wreck.

Cleveland Needs Food

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 12.—With local traffic and communication with the outside world partially restored after the city had been almost completely isolated for over forty-eight hours, Cleveland today faces a serious food famine. Because of the condition of the streets, local wholesale grocers, provision men and milk dealers have been unable to make deliveries and as a conse-

Sinks With Forty Men

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 12.—The steam barge Butters and her crew of twenty men have been lost south here and a point 150 miles from here. The barge left here last Friday with a cargo of lumber. No word has been received from her since Sunday. The steamer Leafchild which entered Lake Superior last Thursday is also believed to have gone down. If not disabled she could have reached here yesterday after the storm abated. Other steamers arriving from the Soo have not seen any trace of the Leafchild.

FIRST SUPPER IS VOTED SUCCESS

Members of the Men's League of the First Baptist church today voted their first supper of the year, given last night, a tremendous success. Sixty men attended.

Following several addresses, the league voted to formulate plans for a series of entertainments in the form of lectures, readings and musicals to be held at different times during the winter for the purpose of drawing the young people of the city to the congregation.

Rev. Billings made a short address, making suggestions as to plans for the winter's work. C. C. Baker entertained with imitations of Harry Lauder in a pleasing manner.

The first address of the evening was made by Secretary A. C. Gran of the Y. M. C. A., who spoke on the good being done by the men's Bible class, of which he is the head.

Professor A. J. Lewis of the normal school and S. A. Johnson made speeches.

One of the most enjoyable parts of the evening's gathering was the supper prepared by the ladies of the church. A spirit of good will and fellowship prevailed.

F. R. A. PLANS TO GIVE BIG DANCE

The first dancing party of the series which is the annual fall and winter social program of the order, will be given Thursday night by the F. R. A. at Linker's hall. This will be a novel affair in the line of dancing parties, being called "The Maze." A labyrinth of color in the decorating, with electric color effects, will transform the hall into the brilliant splendor of the far east.

A demonstration is to be given during the evening by Prof. Falls of the correct method and style of dancing the tango and hesitation waltz, as approved by the American Dancing Teachers' association.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores. Known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. For sale and recommended by O. T. Erhart.

POSTAL CLERKS TO GIVE A BIG DANCE

Invitations have been issued for the annual ball to be given by the clerks of the local postoffice on Thanksgiving night. Last season the postoffice employees gave a series of dances, the proceeds of which were used to entertain the guests at the state convention held here last July. These affairs proved so popular that it has been decided to make it an annual event. The ball will be held at the Elks' hall.

FAMOUS HORSEMAN SPENDS WEEK HERE

Tom Murphy Who Won $5,000 on Grand Circuit This Season Visits Local People

Tom Murphy, Troy, N. Y., who bears the distinction of winning more money during the season just passed than any other light harness driver in the world, has returned to his home in the east after spending a week visiting friends in this city. While here he spent part of the time with Harry Palmer, local horseman. Murphy has driven some of the fastest horses ever put on the grand circuit and his purses this year, it is claimed, totalled his employees $65,000 in cash.

The man who ran him a close second was Ed Geers, who prior to the 1913 season held the distinction of being the biggest purse winner.

NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH IN FLAMES

Chaseburg Man and Family Wake to Find House a Furnace and Leap for Lives

CHASEBURG, Wis., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Awakened by the house being filled with smoke at about 2 a. m. Wednesday morning, Mr. Schroeder and family arose to find their home a mass of flames. Barely having time to escape with his life, Mr. Schroeder got out of the burning building clad only in garments for the night, and the other occupants of the residence were forced to jump from the second story as their exit down stairs was already cut off by flames. A number of neighbors gathered quickly but all efforts to put the fire out were unsuccessful, the house burning to the ground. A large wood shed nearby also caught fire from the house and burned completely down. The large stock barn which stood near the house was saved by some quick action on the part of the volunteer fire fighters. The loss is heavy and was only partly covered by insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it probably resulted from a defective chimney.

TALKS ON THE CANAL

CONGRESSMAN JOHN J. ESCH ENTERTAINS LARGE CROWD OF KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Congressman John J. Esch delivered an address to members of the Knights of Pythias and their friends at the K. P. hall last night. Taking as his topic the Panama canal, he illustrated it with slides made from pictures taken by himself. One of the largest crowds ever gathered in the hall heard the lecture.

In trips that Congressman Esch has made to the canal zone, he has made a close study of the country, its history, and people and the Panama canal.

Starting with the discovery of the country and the first attempt to connect the two bodies of water, Congressman Esch gave a complete history of the country and the gigantic project that is all but completed. A part of the lecture was devoted to the wars and rebellions that have taken place in the vicinity of the canal, and of the work of government officials in converting the once pest-ridden land into a sanitary and a healthy one to live in.

During the trips to Panama, he made a close study of the manner in which American engineers went about the building of the canal, and with figures and data accurately obtained, gave the audience a splendid word picture of the immense project.

Caught the General.

One of the regular army officers tells a story of how the old stringent army regulations once went against General Scott. One wet afternoon that soldier was caught in the rain in Washington. He was in full uniform and was well known, so, no cab being near, he borrowed an umbrella. Arriving at his hotel, an underofficer approached him and calmly remarked:

"General, you will consider yourself under arrest for eight days for carrying an umbrella while in full uniform."

An Old Puritan Name.

Among the millions of our fellow countrymen you would expect to find some curious survivals of names. Well, the other day I found the name, still surviving in Lancashire. "Tramplereasure." It does not occur in the London telephone directory. It has never before occurred in my experience, but it is obviously a survival of the "Praise God Bearebones" period. And the last man with that name should be forgiven if he shortened it to Smith.—London Standard.

KILBANE MEETS ATTELL

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, has finally agreed to give Abe Attell a chance to regain his title and the two will meet in a twenty round bout at Vernon, Cal., February 22, according to advices received here today. "I can beat anybody that is afraid of me, and I know Kilbane is afraid," said Attell here today.

GIRLS OF SCHOOL AGE

Need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to Keep Their Blood in Good Order

Girls in their teens are often troubled with thin blood, making the complexion pale, sometimes greenish, the cheeks thin, the lips colorless. There is shortness of breath after the slightest exertion, a general feeling of weariness and a disinclination to study or work. Sometimes a slight cough causes a feeling of alarm that the lungs may be affected.

There is one remedy that will surely correct this form of anemia in growing girls and that is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The action of these pills in such cases is a direct and certain as that of quinine in malaria, as sure as anything known to the science of remedial medicine.

Every mother whose daughter is pale and thin owes it to her child's future to at once give her a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Neglect at this time may result in a lifetime of misery.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

THIRTY-THREE CUPS FOR POULTRY SHOW

Western Wisconsin Exhibit Has a Big List of Trophies for Winners

Thirty-three silver cups will be offered by the Western Wisconsin Poultry association at its next annual show to be held December 2 to 8 in the old Y. M. C. A. building on King street, just east of the market square. The premium list has just been issued and mailed to fanciers throughout the northwest and it is expected that there will be more birds on display this year than ever before. Besides the silver cups the association offers large cash premiums and a big list of special premiums. Handsome silk ribbons will be awarded to the winners in each class.

Three judges will place the awards. T. J. Rountree of Nova, Ill., and E. H. Hoffman of La Crosse will judge the poultry and J. E. Kircheis of this city will judge the pigeons.

One of the interesting features at the show this year will be the egg display. The association has decided to make this exhibit one of the important attractions and therefore premiums will be offered on the best displays of eggs. White eggs and brown eggs will be entered separately and cash premiums will be paid. It will be necessary, however, that the exhibitors state the name of the variety when making their entries in this department.

Premium lists for the coming show may be had by calling upon William H. Hoeschler, secretary, 123 South Fourth street.

FIGHT EGG EXTORTION

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Discovery by members of the Housewives' league which is affiliated with women's organizations which have a total membership of 700,000 all over the country, that eggs are being sold to the poor of the crowded east side at the fancy price of five cents each, caused Mrs. Julian Heath, its president, today to send agents among east side residents to tell them where they can buy eggs at 35 and 40 cents a dozen.

Lady Scott Was a Bore.

Lady Shelley, who, as appears from her diary, brought away from Abbotsford the impression that Sir Walter Scott's wife was "the greatest bore in Europe," was not alone in entertaining an unfavorable view of her hostess in the famous Tweedside house. In his "Journal" for May 2, 1837, Lord Cockburn, the Scotch judge, who loved and admired Scott, noted that he had finished reading the second volume of Lockhart's "Life of Scott," in which he declares that one of the most extraordinary revelations to the people of Edinburgh was "that there was a time when Lady Scott was pretty and agreeable."

PLANS SERIES OF UNION SERVICES

The initial service of a series of union prayer meetings, taken part in by all the evangelical churches of the city, will be held Friday night in the hall of the La Crosse Mission.

Recently a number of the pastors of the city made it known that in their opinion a series of meetings joined in by all churches of the city would be profitable, and the plan was formed by Superintendent D. C. Dewey of the mission.

Special musical programs will be held at the gatherings, and the meetings will be conducted every week until one has been held in practically all of the churches of the city.

Superintendent Dewey recently received a communication from J. C. Foster, a former worker in the mission here, and a member of two of the church choirs of the city, saying that he would join Superintendent Dewey in his work this winter. Foster is remembered here for his sweet tenor voice.

CONFER DEGREE ON ROOSEVELT

BUENOS AYRES, Nov. 12.—The university on Monday conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Col. Roosevelt. In an address the former foreign minister, E. Zeballos, eulogized the former president of the United States and his policy toward Panama. The speaker gave it as his opinion that the United States must dominate in the Caribbean sea, otherwise the republics in that section would invite European intervention.

BOSTON GETS MEETING

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 12.—Boston won the 1914 meeting of the foreign mission board of the Methodist Episcopal church by a vote of 40 to 3 for Omaha at the closing session of the annual convention here today.

STOP THIEF

"Some one's pinched my watch!" yelled a fat man pathetically as he tried to get through the iron gateway to the trains at the Grand Central station, New York. "Get back there," grunted the gatekeeper. "You can't go sliding in there. Where's your ticket?" "Chase yourself," snapped the fat man. "I'm Lieut. Thompson from the Central office. I'd run you in for a nickel." Thompson's eye had lighted on a certain individual who answered generally to the description of the man he was after, and who was pushing his way through the crowd as if he were in a great hurry to get away. The person Lieut. Thompson suspected was an elderly, white-haired man, whose self open mouth and mild blue eyes suggested only absent-mindedness and a benevolent outlook on the cold world. Thompson made a dive just as the gateman closed the gate in his face. He would have had his hands on the professor in another moment if he could have got through. This is one of the many funny incidents which occurs in the new farce play "Stop Thief" which Cohan & Harris will present at the La Crosse theater on Sunday, Nov. 16, matinee and night.

BLANCHE RING

Promise of your entertainment is heralded by the announcement of the appearance of breezy Blanche Ring, with Harry Connor as chief assistant funmaker, in her new comedy with songs entitled "When Claudia Smiles" at La Crosse theater Monday, Nov. 17. Miss Ring is a woman with a mission—to gladden the world with the wholesome charm of her personality, the radiance of her characteristic smile, the joyousness of her comedy and the dash with which she interprets the songs of the day. Dull care must take a vacation when Blanche Ring comes to town, and in her plays the traditional tired business man finds the best panacea for his worriments.

"HOME AND FIRESIDE"

The above play, a splendid rural comedy drama, new to La Crosse theaters will be put on by the Van Dyke & Eaton Co. on Thursday matinee and everybody attending will receive free a souvenir photograph of Mr. Willard Foster, the well known comedian and singer.

"Amateurs" will appear again on Friday night and Saturday matinee free presents will be given to everybody.

The "stock company" will not appear in La Crosse on Sunday and Monday next on account of "Stop Thief" and "Blanche Ring" one night stands, playing the theater.

Dog Adopts Rabbits.

Unwonted affection between animals of different species is evidenced near Gortin county, Tyrone, Ireland. A local farmer named Fleming, has a female fox terrier which was deprived of her two pups when they were four weeks old. Two weeks ago she was out hunting and came on a rabbit burrow in which were bunnies two or three days old. Three of these the dog carried carefully to her kennel, and since then she has been rearing them.

BOWMAN, N. D., Nov. 12.—Attacked by a wounded lynx, Edward Barkis bested the animal, but not until he had been given a terrific battle. A blow from a fence rail ended the lynx's life as it was springing through the air at Barkis.

The animal weighed sixty pounds and was four feet long.

NEW YORK POLICE RAID "MASHERS"

Catch Eleven Youths and Send Them Up for Flirting with Working Girls

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A thorough round-up of "mashers" who have been frequenting department stores, in the belief that they may be agents of a "white slave" ring, was promised by the police here today. No mercy will be shown men caught in the net.

Three of eleven men arrested yesterday in the waiting room of a Sixth avenue department store started serving sentences in the workhouse today. Two were sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment and the third to twenty days. Eight others were to be arraigned for sentence today and were expected to be given terms equally as long.

Numerous complaints have reached the police recently of men loafing in the waiting rooms of stores and flirting with young girls. Many young women clerks were approached.

Lieut. Costigan, in charge of the squad of fifteen detectives making the raid, said he believed they were agents seeking to entice the young women into leading immoral lives.

The raid was planned with the utmost care. Four sales girls volunteered to aid the city detectives. In addition several women detectives and the matron from one of the police stations went to the store. The sales girls went to the waiting room and within a short time, the young men who were suspected had approached them. When the entire eleven were engaged in conversation with the girls and women detectives, Costigan's men swooped down and bundled the suspected slavers into a patrol wagon.

TOMAH, WIS.

A fatal accident occurred to a team belonging to Al Switz, a livery man of Tomah Tuesday. The team was used to transport linemen and their accessories for the Bell Telephone company and while near Black River Falls the team was frightened by a passing automobile. The driver, Sherd Alexander of this city, was thrown to the ground under the wagon, his arm being broken. The horses ran into a barb wire fence at breakneck speed and were severely cut and as a result had to be killed. The horses were a handsome span of greys and were purchased by Mr. Switz only two months ago.

A number of prominent democrats are in the field for the office of postmaster of the city of Tomah.

Several carloads of stock were shipped from here on Monday by the Farmers' Livestock company.

Mrs. William Edwards was a city visitor Tuesday.

John Goerbing left Monday for the northern woods to be at the opening of the deer hunting season.

The schedule has been made out for the series of inter-class debates between the seniors and juniors, the winners to receive the Rowland cup. Last year the cup was won by the class of '14 and they intend to repeat the victory. As yet no class in the history of the school has won the cup twice in succession.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Regalia, owners of a large cranberry marsh near Mather, stopped off at this city on returning from a week's stay in Milwaukee.

Miss A. Miller of Babcock is visiting friends and relatives here.

Messrs. S. A. Warner, E. M. Page, and F. W. Wakefield of Warrens were shoppers in this city on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnhart of Wilton spent Monday here as the guests of friends.

Mr. Charles Mercham of Daly was a caller here Tuesday.

The Bay View club met with Mrs. Uebler on Monday.

Boy Scouts have been organized in Warrens, north of this city.

The mill at Waterville is again opened. J. A. Thomas has charge of it. It has been remodeled and new machinery installed.

R. G. Bestor of La Crosse spent Monday in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Baird, who were visiting friends and relatives here, have returned to their home in Minneapolis.

Miss Inez Hart left Saturday for Portage, where she will visit with friends.

Mrs. Fred Hesser has returned home after visiting in Evansville, Wis.

B. W. Mee, a well known farmer residing east of here, has installed a milking machine. It is evident that they are a success, quite a number of farmers in this vicinity having purchased them and all report favorably.

A crew is at work on the farm of F. Spenseley building a barn in place of the one destroyed by the cyclone a month ago.

Dr. T. J. Sheely is reported to be very ill.

Mr. George Lewis had a bad accident with a corn shredder, when his fingers were crushed on his right hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Christian are in La Crosse at present.

Excellent Precepts.

If you would relish your food, labor for it; if you would enjoy the raiment, pay for it before you wear it; if you would sleep soundly, take a clear conscience to bed with you.

Chicago Grain Review CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Wheat lacked the support of the cable today and after starting 1/4 to 3/4c lower than yesterday's closing prices, suffered further decline of 3/4c for December and 1/4c for May in the forenoon session.

Liverpool had reports of light rains over the Argentina pampas where crop conditions had been regarded as unfavorable and this news caused some liquidating.

Corn was down 1/4c at the start, but suffered no further loss in the forenoon. Spec. lid weather for marketing was the principal bear factor.

Oats followed corn closely today and after starting down a fraction held steady.

Provisions were easier at the start because of easier hog prices, but firmed later in the day with speculative support.

A feeling that wheat and corn traders oversold during the forenoon caused speculators who had been sellers to turn buyers in the afternoon.

The result was a rally in all grain futures, wheat advancing 1/4c and corn 1/4 to 3/4c. Oats made fractional gains.

Provisions gained gradually until the close.

PREDICTS WORLD BASEBALL LEAGUE

Comiskey Expects to See Organization Comprising the Occident and Orient

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Nov. 12.—"In a dozen years from now, perhaps I shall be managing an international baseball team in a league comprising Japan, China, England, France and Russia."

This is what Charles A. Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox said in discussing the coming world tour of the Sox and the New York Giants. He and his party today are speeding west to join the players.

"England is awakening to baseball with a rush," declared the Old Roman. "The young boys in France have taken it up. We know that in Japan it has become almost the national game, the colleges particularly fostering it. So why is not an international league possible?"

"Perhaps this tour may pave the way for it. The Giants and White Sox have no games scheduled with foreign teams, but some may be played."

Comiskey will join the teams at San Francisco on Friday and journey with them to the northwest.

W. V. KIDDER ON TWO COMMITTEES

Admiral Charles P. Hanley of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat association, including practically all of the important boating organizations of the middle western states, today announced the following appointments for 1914:

Race committee—J. W. Dixon, Burlington; E. H. VanPatten, Davenport; Joseph Kelso, Jr., Bellevue; F. C. Smith, Keokuk; Charles P. Hanley, Muscatine.

Show committee—W. V. Kidder, La Crosse; J. W. Sackrider, Racine; J. C. Shadegg, Minneapolis; Will Gray, Chicago; O. D. Collis, Clinton. Cruise committee—R. G. Webb, Alton; F. R. Halstead, Muscatine; C. L. Beardsley, Rock Island; A. C. Decker, Keokuk; D. F. Scribner, Clinton.

Membership committee—J. L. Hans, Quincy; Judge J. E. Guinotte, Kansas City; Adrian Meyers, Fort Madison; Richard O'Brien, St. Paul; J. W. Sackrider, Racine. Rules committee—R. A. Maples, Clinton; St. C. Ede, Dubuque; W. E. Hughey, Bellevue; W. P. Cleveland, Galena; A. C. Strong, Burlington. Legislative committee—St. C. Ede, Dubuque; W. F. Bishop, Muscatine; W. V. Kidder, La Crosse.

ALL-WESTERN END GETS EXPULSION

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—John Vruwink, all-western end, and captain-elect of the University of Chicago basketball team, was the victim of technicalities, his friends declared today, when it was learned that the Maroon gridiron star had been expelled from school on the eve of his graduation. Vruwink was barred from football a few weeks ago on the protest of University of Illinois authorities that he had taken part in athletics at Hope college, Michigan, in 1910, and therefore had played for a longer period than permitted by conference rules. His expulsion followed.

COPS PUT STOP TO IMPROMPTU BOUT

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Arthur Pelky is enroute to St. Paul today, having missed a chance to put on a three round bout with Jess Willard because a local fight fan mistook a plain clothes man for a "live sport."

Pelky watched Willard work out at a local gym yesterday and expressed a willingness to swap blows. Fight followers were flocking toward the gym when the plain clothes detective got his tip. Six policemen called the bout off.

Many a married man makes more fuss over losing his collar button than he does over losing his identity.

OFFER PRIZES TO UNTANGLE TRICK

Boys' Athletic Association Will Give Five Dollars to One Following Magic Processes

The Boys' Athletic association of the high school has developed a scheme by which any one with a quick eye can make five dollars of very easy money. The five dollars is offered to anyone who can untangle one of the simplest tricks W. S.

WALTER S. MEIKLEJOHN

Meiklejohn will perform at his entertainment at the high school Friday evening. Fittingly, the trick the association has picked out to be solved is called the "Miser's Dream." Much money is "materialized" from nowhere.

"Meet Meiklejohn and make money" has become a slogan at the high school, but the athletic association sticks to its offer. They stipulate that the solutions of the trick must be handed in after the performance, and that they must follow the working out of the trick in detail, no general statements being acceptable.

The athletic association feels so sure the work of Meiklejohn is a simple one in the extreme and so baffling that any one who thinks that his eye is quicker than the hand that they feel sure they are perfectly safe in offering the five dollars to any one who can solve this trick of the master magician. Of course, everyone knows that there is a simple solution to the trick and it can be readily determined if one is able to use his eyes well enough. This is an opportunity for any close observer in the high school to make money when he sees Meiklejohn.

Tickets are now on sale at the high school office for the entertainment. The price has been fixed at 35 cents and there is no charge for reservations. Reservations are made at the high school office. Advertisement.

DIAMOND CLEARED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 12.—Dr. Peter T. Diamond, member of the state dental board, was exonerated of the Chicago newspaper charge that he sold copies of the questions to be asked in a dental examination, when Gov. Dunne opened the sealed package of questions. They showed no similarity to the ones alleged to have been sold.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 12.—Northwestern university players will be numbered in their game with Indiana on Saturday and score cards distributed through the crowd, carrying the names and numbers of the men. If the experiment is a success, the Northwestern athletic authorities said today they will recommend its adoption by the western intercollegiate conference.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 12.—The Crimson varsity with a shifted lineup, was scheduled for the hardest scrimmage of the week today in preparation for the Brown game Saturday. Harvard coaches were not satisfied with the showing of the line men in the Princeton game and will make every effort to strengthen before Yale.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Enthusiasm pent up like mercury in a thermometer, reached white heat among Pennsylvania university students today in a rousing sendoff to the football squad enroute to "Michigan and victory." More than a thousand students packed the Reading terminal as the train left for Ann Arbor, where Pennsylvania meets Michigan Saturday.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 12.—With a strong scrub team directing a Yale system of attack at them, the Princeton varsity linemen broke up the plays with such success that the coaches were satisfied today to lighten the work of the first squad for the rest of the week before the game with the blue.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 12.—Case students, 500 strong, turned out in a body and shoveled the snow from Van Horn field in order that their team might get a few days outdoor practice for their game with Ohio State Saturday. The field was covered to a depth of almost two feet.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 12.—The scheme of numbering the football players so that the spectators may be able to follow the game better, is at last to be tried out in the east. Coach Cavanaugh of Dartmouth announced at Hanover that his men would wear big numbers on their backs in the game against Carlisle here Saturday.

Vaccination may keep people from taking things, but it won't cure kleptomania.
